

Advisory Board Biographies

Chauncey Joyce holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Applied Economics and Management from Cornell University and a Master of Business Administration degree from Duke University. Chauncey worked in the Finance and Accounting Department at The Procter & Gamble Company in Cincinnati, Ohio for six years before beginning a career in higher education. Chauncey has taught a broad array of Finance courses for the University of Cincinnati, Ohio University, and the University of Miami. Since 2020, Chauncey has been a Clinical Assistant Professor of Finance at Nazareth College. Outside of education, Chauncey enjoys spending time with his wife and daughter as well as cycling around the Greater Rochester region.